Dear Sirs:

I enclose herewith papers just received from Wells, Fargo Express Company, regarding a package of medals apparently from the Duke of Loubat. I do not know anything about these medals but they are, undoubtedly, being presented to this Society by the Duke of Loubat, who is one of our members.

I also enclose a letter addressed to the Wells, Fargo & Co., asking them to turn the papers over to you.

Will you kindly attend to this matter, and greatly oblige,

Yours very truly,

Director.

Dear Sirs:

I enclose herewith papers just received from the Customs Bureau at the Post Office regarding seven packages of books from Germany. I do not know what these books are or who has ordered them but, however, we want to get them, and I will be obliged if you will do the needful.

Yours very truly,

Dear Sirs:

I have just written a letter regarding the medals from the Duke of Loubat of which the following is a copy.

"Mr. W. F. Collins,
Assistant Foreign Agent,

New York.

Dear Sir:

On April 4th, I wrote you requesting that the papers regarding the package of medals sent to this Society, by the Duke of Loubat of Paris, be turned over to Messrs. Kronfeld, Saunders & Co., which I understand has not yet been done. I would be obliged if you would do this at your convenience so that we can get these medals, which we should have received some time ago. "

I trust this will hurry up the medals somewhat.

Gentlemen:

On April 24, 1911, you handed us an invoice for 7 packages of books, valued at 535.25 which arrived by the United States mail from Germany, from Carle Heirsmann Leipzig, Germany. As the value of these books was over $100, we were compelled to give a bond to the Collector of Customs for the production of the Consular invoice which occurred in expense of $2 for surity. We would thank you to procure this Consular invoice from the shippers as early as possible in order that we may be relieved of the responsibility to the customs for the same.

Thanking you for your attention to this matter, we are,

Very truly yours,

GODFREID DEVREESE

Mr. Director,

I send to you by Spinaeyer Express of Brussels a box which will be sent by the Steamer "Zeeland". This box contains; a bronze medallion of the King and Queen of Spain that Mr. A. Huntington ordered of me. Then two iron casts, one representing a plaquette subject "Art", the other a portrait representing the likeness of Madame Jean De Vot nee Claire Adt de Balthore. I take the liberty of offering this last to the museum of your Society. The box contains also five bronze medals and several photos of my general works of sculpture, which I had promised to Mr. Huntington. Instead of sending two packages, I have taken the liberty of presenting the whole of them to you in hopes that you would be so kind as to deliver the others to Mr. Huntington in order to fight high custom duties in as much as it is a present.

I thought it was not necessary to declare the exact value, and here is what I declared:

HSA	( The bronze medallion	200 Francs
	( The two casts @ 30 fr.	60
AMS	( Five bronze medals @ 10 fr.	50
	Total	320 fr.

Hoping, my dear Director, that you will excuse me for having caused you this trouble, and that you will kindly notify me of the arrival of the objects, I beg you to accept the expression of my best regards.

Dear Sirs:-

I have just received the enclosed letter from Thomas Meadows & Company, regarding a package of books, which arrived on the S/S Caronia for J. Sanford Saltus in care of the Society.

Can you find out anything about this? Mr. Saltus is at present in Europe, and I have had no word from him regarding the shipment of any books to the Society, still he is constantly doing things of that kind so it is nothing particularly surprizing, and I feel very sure that the books, whatever they are, are for the Society, but I know nothing whatever about them. I should rather gather from this letter that Thomas Meadows & Company have no papers in connection with this shipment. This letter may be simply a bluff to get the business. However that may be, I would be glad to have you take the matter up and see what you can find out.

CONDITIONS

Sec. 1. The carrier or party in possession of any of the property herein described shall be liable for any loss thereof or damage thereto, except as hereinafter provided.

No carrier or party in possession of any of the property herein described shall be liable for any loss thereof or damage thereto or delay caused by the act of God, the public enemy, quarantine, the authority of law, or the act or default of the shipper or owner, or for differences in the weights of grain, seed, or other commodities caused by natural shrinkage or discrepancies in elevator weights. For loss, damage, or delay caused by fire occurring after forty-eight hours (exclusive of legal holidays) after notice of the arrival of the property at destination or at port of export (if intended for export) has been duly sent or given, the carrier's liability shall be that of warehouseman only. Except in case of negligence of the carrier or party in possession (and the burden to prove freedom from such negligence shall be on the carrier or party in possession), the carrier or party in possession shall not be liable for loss, damage, or delay occurring while the property is stopped and held in transit upon request of the shipper, owner, or party entitled to make such request, or resulting from a defect or vice in the property or from riots or strikes. When in accordance with general custom, on account of the nature of the property, or when at the request of the shipper the property is transported in open cars, the carrier or party in possession (except in case of loss or damage by fire, in which case the liability shall be the same as though the property had been carried in closed cars) shall be liable only for negligence, and the burden to prove freedom from such negligence shall be on the carrier or party in possession.

Sec. 2. In lading this bill of lading this company agrees to transport only over its own line, and except as otherwise provided by law acts only as agent with respect to the portion of the route beyond its own line.

No carrier shall be liable for loss, damage, or injury not occurring on its own road or its portion of the through route, nor after said property has been delivered to the next carrier, except as such liability is or may be imposed by law, but nothing contained in this bill of lading shall be deemed to exempt the initial carrier from any such liability so imposed.

Sec. 3. No carrier is bound to transport said property by any particular train or vessel, or in time for any particular market or otherwise than with reasonable dispatch, unless by specific agreement indorsed hereon. Every carrier shall have the right in case of physical necessity to forward said property by any railroad or route between the point of shipment and the point of destination; but if such diversion shall be from a rail to a water route the liability of the carrier shall be the same as though the entire carriage were by rail.

The amount of any loss or damage for which any carrier is liable shall be computed on the basis of the value of the property (being the bona-fide invoice price, if any, to the consignee, including the freight charges, if prepaid) at the place and time of shipment under this bill of lading, unless a lower value has been represented in writing by the shipper or has been agreed upon or is determined by the classification or tariffs upon which the rate is based, in any of which events such lower value shall be the maximum amount to govern such computation, whether or not such loss or damage occurs from negligence.

Claims for loss, damage, or delay must be made in writing to the carrier at the point of delivery or at the point of origin within four months after delivery of the property, or, in case of failure to make delivery, then within four months after a reasonable time for delivery has elapsed. Unless claims are so made the carrier shall not be liable.

Any carrier or party liable on account of loss of or damage to any of said property shall have the full benefit of any insurance that may have been effected upon or on account of said property, so far as this shall not avoid the policies or contracts of insurance.

Sec. 4. All property shall be subject to necessary coorage and baling at owner's cost. Each carrier over whose route cotton is to be transported hereunder shall have the privilege, at its own cost and risk, of compressing the same for greater convenience in handling or forwarding, and shall not be held responsible for deviation or unavoidable delays in procuring such compression. Grade in bulk consigned to a point where there is a railroad, public, or licensed elevator, may (unless otherwise expressly noted herein, and then if it is not promptly unloaded) be there delivered and placed with other grain of the same kind and grade without respect to ownership, and if so delivered shall be subject to a lien for elevator charges in addition to all other charges hereunder.

Sec. 5. Property not removed by the party entitled to receive it within forty-eight hours (exclusive of legal holidays) after notice of its arrival has been duly sent or given may be kept in car, depot, or place of delivery of the carrier, or warehouse, subject to a reasonable charge for storage and to carrier's responsibility as warehouseman only, or may be, at the option of the carrier, removed to and stored in a public or licensed warehouse at the cost of the owner and there held at the owner's risk and without liability on the part of the carrier, and subject to a lien for all freight and other lawful charges, including a reasonable charge for storage.

The carrier may make a reasonable charge for the detention of any vessel or car, or for the use of tracks after the car has been held forty-eight hours (exclusive of legal holidays), for loading or unloading, and may add such charge to all other charges hereunder and hold such property subject to a lien therefor. Nothing in this section shall be construed as lessening the time allowed by law or as setting aside any local rule affecting car service or storage.

Property destined to or taken from a station, wharf, or landing at which there is no regularly appointed agent shall be entirely at risk of owner after unloaded from cars or vessels or until loaded into cars or vessels, and when received from or delivered on private or other sidings, wharves, or landings shall be at owner's risk until the cars are attached to and after they are detached from trains.

Sec. 6. No carrier will carry or be liable in any way for any document, specie, or for any articles of extraordinary value not specifically rated in the published classification or tariffs, unless a special agreement to do so and a stipulated value of the articles are indorsed hereon.

Sec. 7. Every party, whether principal or agent, shipping explosive or dangerous goods, without previous full written disclosure to the carrier of their nature, shall be liable for all loss or damage caused thereby, and such goods may be warehoused at owner's risk and expense or destroyed without compensation.

Sec. 8. The owner or consignee shall pay the freight and all other lawful charges accruing on said property, and, if required, shall pay the same before delivery. If upon inspection it is ascertained that the articles shipped are not those described in this bill of lading, the freight charges must be paid upon the articles actually shipped.

Sec. 9. Except in case of diversion from rail to water route, which is provided for in section 3 hereof, if all or any part of said property is carried by water over any part of said route, such water carriage shall be performed subject to the liabilities, limitations, and exemptions provided by statute and to the conditions contained in this bill of lading not inconsistent with such statutes or this section, and subject also to the condition that no carrier or party in possession shall be liable for any loss or damage resulting from the perils of the lakes, sea, or other waters; or from explosion, bursting of boilers, breakage of shafts, or any latent defect in hull, machinery, or appurtenances; or from collision, stranding, or other accidents of navigation, or from prolongation of the voyage. And any vessel carrying any or all of the property herein described shall have the liberty to call at intermediate ports, to tow and be towed, and assist vessels in distress, and to deviate for the purpose of saving life or property.

The term "water carriage" in this section shall be construed as including lightering across rivers or in lake or other harbors, and the liability for such lightering shall be governed by the other sections of this instrument.

If the property is being carried under a tariff which provides that any carrier or carriers party thereto shall be liable for loss from perils of the sea, then as to such carrier or carriers the provisions of this section shall be modified in accordance with the provisions of the tariff, which shall be treated as incorporated into the conditions of this Bill of Lading.

Sec. 10. Any alteration, addition or erasure in this bill of lading which shall be made without an indorsement thereof hereon, signed by the agent of the carrier issuing this bill of lading, shall be without effect, and this bill of lading shall be enforceable according to its original tenor.

Dear Sirs:-

I have just received the enclosed communication from

Will you kindly look it up?

Dear Sirs:-

The enclosed bill of lading has just been received. I presume it applies to that box which came on the Majestic, though the name of the steamer appears to be crossed off. From this I see that Emil Huchs is the shipper, but I do not know anything more about the contents of the box than when I first wrote you.

Dear Sirs:-

I enclose herewith another bill of lading similar to the one I sent you yesterday. This was sent me direct by Mr. Emil Fuchs, but as no word came with it I do not know any more about the contents of the package.

I also enclose a communication from your good friend Vandegrift. I am beginning to get very much mixed up as to whether the package came on the Majestic or on the New York, or whether there are two of them. Please let me know when you find out anything about it.

Very truly yours,

My dear Mr. Belden:-

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your favor of February 11th enclosing a letter from Frank F. Fletcher, Minneapolis, Minn., on the question of rates of duty under the present tariff.

The first question is as follows:

Articles or wares composed wholly or in part of platinum gold or silver, and articles or wares plated with gold or silver and whether partly or wholly manufactured 50% ad valorem. If composed wholly or in chief value of iron, steel, lead, copper, brass, nickel, putter, zinc, aluminum or other metal, but not plated with gold or silver whether partly or wholly manufactured, 20% ad valorem.

To Mr. Fletcher's other question the law reads as follows:

Metals of gold, silver or copper and other articles actually bestowed as trophy or prize and received and accepted as honorary distinction, free of duty.

I think that the above information fully answers Mr.

My dear Mr. Belden:-

I have had so many inquiries of similar character from different people in the United States upon the subject of tariff, that I am sending out a circular letter to all people whom I think would be interested in importing from abroad. Your letter has made me think that perhaps if I could get a list of the members of the Numismatic Society of different parts of the United States it may help them and certainly would help us if they should intend importing any article from abroad or should want any articles purchased from abroad, where we have experienced agents who do this kind of work for us. I, of course do not want you to do this if it would be giving up the secrets of your organization.

I appreciate very much that you have drawn my attention to your present exhibition and will use every effort in my power to go up and see same. I have however, been speaking to some parties interested in numismatic and if they go up I am going to take the liberty of giving my card to them to you.

Dear Mr. Saunders:-

With reference to the catalogue of the Ramsden Chinese collection now held in the Post Office, supposedly subject to duty, I wish to say for your information that this catalogue is really a supplement to the bill of lading which accompanied the coins. As a great many of the coins date back almost to the dawn of christianity, and are of such forms as are not usual today, it has been necessary for the shipper to furnish illustrations of most of the coins in place of describing them in so many words. Ordinary language fails in describing such things. For a great many years we have been receiving from the same source small shipments of similar coins, which were always followed by similar illustrated lists such as the catalogue now held by the Customs Department. This catalogue has no commercial value, and is intended merely for a check list of the Ramsden collection and for the protection of ourselves and the shipper.

Trusting this information will be sufficient to release this catalogue duty free, I am,

Yours very truly,

Treasurer.

NOTE.—Give full particulars of contents, quantity, quality, value and weight, if Woollen Goods. If value is over $100 (Frs. 518), invoice must be certified to by a U.S. Consul. For shipments to Canada, three invoices with certificates are required, one for bonding at New York, and two for entry at the Canadian Customs. Copy of Bill of Lading or Express receipt must accompany invoices for shipments to Canada to ensure lowest rates of duty. Each package, invoice and Bill of Lading must bear notation "In Bond to . . ." (final destination); for example: "In Bond to Toronto, Ontario" (NOT "In Bond to Canada"). Shipments passing through the United States in bond to points in Mexico must be accompanied by invoices showing both the gross and net weights. Failing such invoices, the shipments will be held up at the Mexican frontier pending their receipt.

NOTE.—Donner tous les détails du contenu, quantité, qualité, valeur et le poids si ce sont des lainages. Si la valeur est supérieure à $100 (Frs. 518), la facture devra être légalisée par un Consul des États-Unis. Pour le Canada il est nécessaire d'établir trois factures signées, l'une pour le transit à New York, les deux autres pour la Douane Canadienne. Une copie du connaissement ou le reçu délivré lors de la remise du colis doit accompagner les factures pour les expéditions destinées aux Canada, afin d'obtenir l'application du tarif de douane minimum. Chaque colis, facture et connaissement devront porter la mention "In Bond to . . ." (mettre ici la destination finale); par exemple: "In Bond to Toronto, Ontario" (ET NON PAS "In Bond to Canada"). Les expéditions transitant par les États-Unis à destination du Mexique doivent être accompagnées de factures donnant les poids bruts et nets. À défaut de ces factures et jusqu'à leur arrivée, les marchandises seront retenues à la frontière mexicaine.

The affidavit which you send stating that we "ordered" it is hardly pertinent. We cannot certify that we ordered a gift.
